President, Leadership Learning Systems

Gail A. Digate is president of Leadership Learning Systems, a performance consultancy founded in 1992 to deliver customized training, facilitation, and consulting aligned with best practices in leadership, systems thinking, and organizational change. She brings more than 30 years' experience in education, training, and consulting to support clients in the public and private sectors.

Gail volunteers with Arizona Town Hall, having served as local liaison for the 2021 Verde Valley Community Town Hall on Creating Vibrant Communities. She lives in Sedona and also is active with the League of Women Voters of Northern Arizona sharing a special interest in voter education and registration for high school and college age students.

Prior to founding Leadership Learning Systems, Gail served as a teacher, principal, district administrator, executive director of a major public-private education partnership in Illinois and director of outreach for the Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy. In these roles she worked directly with business, scientific, education and community leaders throughout the nation to improve teaching and learning in mathematics and science. She also served as an elected school board member in Illinois for nearly 10 years.

Gail holds degrees from the University of Missouri-Columbia and Northern Illinois University in psychology, child development, special education, and educational leadership and policy studies. She frequently presents at national and international conferences and has published in several professional journals.
